INTERNATIONAL!

The Murder of the Syrian Peddler Near Mannington May

ASSUME A MORE SERIOUS PHASE

The Turkish Consul General at New York is in Correspondence with a Wheeling Detective Agency Relative to the Matter—An Investigation of the Case is Pretty Sure to be Made at the Instance of the Turkish Consular Officials.

The murder of the Syrian peddler in Marion county, near Mannington, which occurred several weeks ago, may result in an international case, for the Turkish consular officials are now investigating the matter, believing that the proper steps to capture and punish the mur-derer have not been taken by the authorities in Marion county.

After the murder, which was with the aid of robbery, one Elias Fluharty was arrested, charged with the crime, and there were many indications that justified the belief that he was connected with the killing of the peddler. However, at a hearing before a justice of the peace at Mannington, Fluharty was released.

Since the release of Fluharty and the cessation of efforts to bring the mur-derer to justice, the matter has been brought to the attention of the Imperial Ottoman consul general at New York, and he is now in correspondence with Captain McNichol, of the West Virginia secret service bureau of this city. He is seeking a full knowledge of all the circumstances surrounding the mysterious killing of the peddler with the purpose of making an effort to secure through the United States government what he terms a proper endeavor to ferret out the person or persons guilty of killing the Syrian. Developments in the case will be watched with interest.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

Hot weather and showers to-day.
Highest temperature yesterday—96 degrees.

Base ball this afternoon—Toledo vs.
Wheeling.

Messrs. R. L. Polk & Company, of Pittsburgh, are now at work on their annual West Virginia gazetteer and business directory, which will be issued in the near future.

Fire alarm and weather signal cards can be had on application at C.
Schnepp's pharmacy, free of charge.
There have been many recent changes in the location of fire alarm boxes.

Ernest Klotzner, the thirty-third street saloonist, suffered the rupture of a blood vessel yesterday morning. Several physicians were summoned and last night he was reported as improving.

Last evening the class of '97, Linsly Institute, was entertained by a member of the class, Morris Horkheimer, at his home on Chapline street. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the young men.

A special meeting of the Woman's Union Benevolent Society will be held Friday afternoon at 9 o'clock, at the St. James German Evangelical Lutheran church. The interest is at the Penitentiary cemetery.

Clay is being made at the La Belle plant of the Wheeling Pottery Company, and prospects are good for the resumption of the entire concern soon.
The clay hands will probably go on Tuesday next.

The funeral of the late Conrad Eisen-bach will occur this afternoon at two o'clock. There will be services at the
St. James German Evangelical Lutheran church. The interment is at the Penitentiary cemetery.

Yesterday at the City Hospital, occurred the death of John H. Ball, the veteran locomotive, in the seventy-eighth year of his age. He was the victim of a paralytic stroke, which he could not respond to in his extreme old age.

Charles Gill, sheriff of Columbiana county, Ohio, passed through Bridgeport yesterday, en route to East Liverpool, with Eliza Frances, a crazy man, who had escaped from his native country, and came to the home of his earlier years, near St. Clairsville, Ohio. Sheriff Gill is a former Bridgeport boy.

Henry Altmyer, of South Jacob street, will be ordained into the priesthood Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, at the Cathedral. Bishop Donahue will celebrate. Mr. Altmyer has just returned from college at Baltimore. His many friends will doubtless through the Cathedral to witness his ordination.

This evening in Squire Haberfeld's court, a neighbor's quarrel will hold the courts. Mrs. Catherine Schell charges Miss Rose Kramer with cutting down the shade trees and bushes on the complainant's lawn. Both the parties are next door neighbors, and have summoned a score of witnesses for the trial.

The result of the Steubenville convention is very acceptable to the Republicans across the river in Belmont county. Belmont county has a congressman in the person of Lorenzo Dan-ford. His time will come for re-nomination, and this is of far more importance than the nomination of a Republican state senator. The counties composing the district are so far favorable to Danford's re-nomination, and it is that that Belmont county be content with Danford, and not antagonize any of the other counties in the congressional district, by asking too much.

WITHIN TWO WEEKS

It is Predicted that the Iron and Steel Wage Scale

WILL BE AMICABLY SETTLED.

The Amalgamated Scale Expired Last Night at Midnight, and Many Mills in the Wheeling District will be Idle Until the Settlement is Effectuated—An Amalgamated Official Predicts that the Manufacturers will Concede the Demands.

"There will be a settlement of the wage scale in the steel and tin plate industries within the fortnight," was the remark of a man well known in Amalgamated Association circles last night.

Continuing, the gentleman stated that he had information from manufacturers that led him to make the prediction quoted above. Particularly in the Wheeling district, he says, the manufacturers are anxious to have the scales settled at an early date so that there can be a speedy resumption.

The Intelligence's informant believes that the manufacturers will concede the demand of the workmen for a fifteen per cent advance in wages for tin workers; that they will concede from their demand for a reduction of ten per cent on the present steel scale and that the present scale will remain intact.

Yesterday, at Pittsburgh, a conference between the tin plate workers' representatives and the manufacturers was held, at which an effort was made to effect a speedy settlement of the wage matter.

Last night at 12 o'clock, the amalgamated scales for 1896-97 expired, and the several mills in the Wheeling district shut down for the summer stop and until a settlement of the wage question is effected. Among the establishments that shut down were the La Belle tin plant, the Whittaker tin and sheet mills, the Wheeling Iron & Steel Company's sheet plant at the Top mill, the Aetna-Standard, Laughlin and Bellaire plants. Extensive improvements will be made at the Bellaire plant during the summer shut-down.

THE AUDITING RATE

Was the Bone of Contention at the Pittsburgh Meeting Yesterday.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 30.—Every mill in the United States, whose wage scales are under the jurisdiction of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, will shut down tonight. These mills, altogether, employ 25,000 men, who are members of the Amalgamated Association, besides those who are not. The general shut-down will take place on account of the failure of the Amalgamated Association scale committee and the manufacturers to agree on a padding rate at the conference held here to-day. They were in session all the afternoon and did not get any further than the pudding rate.
The committee held out for $4.50 a ton for puddling and the manufacturers refused to budge from their stand for $4.
An adjournment sine die was finally taken, each side to let the other know when it had experienced a change of heart. All the visiting manufacturers and delegates left at once for their homes.

Just before he left, President Garland, of the Amalgamated Association, received telegrams saying the new scale had been adopted by the Newport Milling Mill Company, of Newport, Ky., and the Peninsular Car Company, of Detroit.

THIS IS DIFFERENT

A Protracted Struggle Between Workmen and Manufacturers.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 30.—The wage struggle this year promises to be protracted because of the wide divergence between workers and manufacturers. The steel, sheet, iron, tin plate, flint glass, bottle blowers and window glass workers are all interested in the outcome of the wage conferences being held. The suspension of work in the steel mills with the addition of the coming big coal strike will be the biggest suspension of business at one time for years past. The tin plate manufacturers will hold another conference with the workers wage committee Saturday.

There will be trouble when the flint glass workers seek to have the chimney scale signed. The manufacturers want a decided reduction and are after it hard.

It was reported on the streets to-day that Jones & Laughlin's demanded a reduction of wages of the Amalgamated Association averaging 25 per cent. This is scarcely credible.

If the coal miners' strike materializes on Saturday the number of workmen out of employment this week by reason of these labor agitations, will reach the high figure of at least 200,000 men.

OLD MAIDS' CONVENTION

Will be Held this Evening at Pythian Castle, South Side.

The Antediluvian Sisters of the United States of America, commonly, although unkindly, called old maids, will assemble in annual convention this evening in the Pythian Castle, Twenty-seventh street, under the auspices of the King's Daughters' Circle of the Chapline Street M. E. church. The convention is open to visitors and one who has not viewed the inner workings of a secret organization will find it profitable, as well as entertaining, to attend. The first scene shows the old maids, in all their glory, on their way to the convention hall. In the second scene the audience has a chance to find out just how things are "run" in a first-class old maids' convention. And in the third you view the astonishing process of old maids being made young again and the ultimate dissolving of the union. "The Old Maids' Convention" has been presented in some of the neighboring towns and has never failed to please. All who possibly can should seize this opportunity for an evening of fun and enjoyment. A short programme will precede the opening of the convention, in which Mrs. Flora Williams and James P. Morgan will take part.

Painfully Burned.

Assistant Secretary Charles C.
Woods, of the Wheeling iron and steel works, was painfully burned about his face, neck and hand yesterday morning when the company's office on Fourteenth street. The accident occurred from a gas explosion. Upon opening for business it was discovered that during the night there had been a great escape of gas in the company's vault.

After the doors had been opened for some time and it was thought of, the gas had left the vault. Mr. Woods entered this apartment to search for the leak in the pipe. Reaching up a lighted match to the gas fixture the explosion followed, caused by the gas that had collected at the top of the vault. His injuries were as stated. Dr. Dickey dressed the afflicted parts, after which Mr. Woods went to his home at Wood-dale. He may be confined to his home for a day or so.

"I HAVE used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy during the past summer and I find it will do just what it is recommended to do. I cheerfully recommend it."—D. W.
BOCHNER, Clarkburg, W. Va. Responding to this remedy is for sale here by druggists.

FATHER MATTINGLY

Welcomed Back to Martin's Ferry, After His Trip Abroad, by His Fellow Citizens, Without Regard to Creed.

Father S. S. Mattingly, rector of St.
Mary's church, was given a splendid reception yesterday on his return to Martin's Ferry from a three months' vacation in Europe. Father Mattingly and his brother, John Mattingly, of Syracuse, N. Y., were met at Cleveland by a committee of members of St. Mary's church, consisting of F. H. Eick, Dr. J. M. Hogan, George Becker, Matt McDermott, Thomas Mullaney, James Riley, George Arbaugh, Clem McCabe and John Mc-Gowan, and the party came to Martin's Ferry in the official car over the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad, arriving at the foot of Hanover street about 2:30 in the afternoon. Here the party was met by the Martin's Ferry cornet band and the members of the church and the school children with banners flying. A parade was formed, which was a very large one for such a day, and marched to St. Mary's church, where the procession gave way to Father Mattingly's party and the visiting clergymen, all riding in cabs, and the band played "Home, Sweet Home." After all of the people in the procession and many citizens had entered the church the benediction of the blessed sacrament was given by Rev. Mattingly. This service over, they adjourned to the school rooms, where Father Mattingly gave a short talk and shook hands with all of those present.

A public reception was held in the opera house, which was crowded notwithstanding the heat. Rev. Father Mattingly, Rev. Father McCaffrey, the visiting priests, the choir, the members of the reception committee and city officials and others occupied seats on the stage, and on either side were many beautiful plants and flowers. Rev.
Father McCaffrey was chairman and the exercises were opened by City Solicitor W. B. Francis, who welcomed Father Mattingly on behalf of the citizens.

The choir, consisting of Misses Lizzie Hoffman, Gertrude McCabe, Theodora Eick, Julia McDonough, and Messrs Louis Englemeyer, Wm. Ackermann and Wm. McIntosh, sang "Home Again," Miss Mary Mullaney presiding at the piano.

A piano duet was rendered by Misses Julia McDonough and Mary Mullaney.
Thomas Mullaney made a speech of welcome in behalf of the congregation, in which he paid Rev. Father Mattingly a high tribute and presented him with an envelope containing a check for $500, the gift of the members of St. Mary's congregation. Mr. Mullaney thanked the officials of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad for their kindness.

Misses Theodora Eick and Julia Mc-Donough sang a duet.

On behalf of St. Mary's Literary Society, Dr. J. M. Hogan welcomed the pastor in a brief but most manner, saying it was fitting under the Stars and Stripes to welcome the man to whom the society owes its origin. This was followed by a cornet and piano duet by Louis Engel-meyer and Miss Anna Ackermann.

Rev. Father Mattingly then delivered an address which pleased the large crowd and was enthusiastically received. He told of his trip in a most interesting manner. When he left he was not sure that he would be able to return, and the physician on board the vessel thought they would bury him at sea. He was received well everywhere. In England and Ireland he told them he regretted their people do not have the social life the American people have, and that there is no place social life is so beautiful as in the United States. He said that when he goes to heaven he wants to go from the United States.
While in Europe he did not spend his time in hotels, but tried to get down among the people. The scenery in the United States is finer than any in Europe. This is true of the scenery both among the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads. While his body was in Europe his heart was in the little city of Martin's Ferry nestled among the hills, and he could see the people walking on its streets and hear them talking. An audience twenty times as large as the one in the opera house last night could be put in St. Peter's and it would be hard to see them. The music there and in the other churches during Holy Week was beyond description. He closed by saying no man ever came back to Martin's Ferry with a warmer heart for the people and he thanked Messrs.
Woodford and Moran, of the C. L. & W. R. R. for courtesies extended.

The reception closed with music by the choir and a few remarks by the Rev.
Father McCaffrey.

A steamer across Hanover street told of Rev. Mattingly's welcome to Martin's Ferry.

Tragedy of a Trunk.

A woman and her trunk were separated yesterday morning at the Baltimore & Ohio depot by the strong arm of the law, represented by Constable Dominick Morris. He had an attachment against the woman, Mrs. William Gray, for $25.35, which she owed T. L.
Rogerson, a Mountville merchant. She was on the train from Mountville, bound for Columbia to join her husband. The Mountville authorities she outwitted, but a telephone message secured Dominick in time.

Mrs. Gray protested against "Dom" seizing the trunk. She coaxed, pleaded, then finally raged. All to no purpose.
Then the train pulled out of the depot, with an angry woman glaring at the constable, but he was busy pulling the trunk over to an express wagon.
